

I really love these thrilling adventure books! The author, Enid Blyton, ensures that the characters have strong personalities, whilst showing how they work together as a team to solve their many, exciting, adventures.

‘The Secret Seven’
by Enid Blyton
is Mrs Phelps-Jones’s favourite book.

I always thought about how lovely it would be to be in a secret club. I imagine that Enid Blyton has inspired children across the world to form strong friendships in their own secret societies! With lashings of ginger beer, of course!
